Description

Developed directly from data acquired from the performance lab: the Ribcor Trigger2 is unlike anything in the market. The enhanced flex zone in the upper third of the shaft to allow players to store maximum energy in the upper and lower parts of the shaft to create a crossbow effect while shooting. The taper shape has been engineered to allow for greater vertical bending in the lower taper area for maximum shooting efficiency. The optimized vertical flex profile allows player to move the puck into shooting position with greater ease. This means players can bring their stick in close to the body when loading before exploding on the release. By combining all these new features with Sigmatex spread-low technology, what you get is our best performing Ribcor stick to date.

- OPTIMIZED RIBCOR LOW KICK- allows players to store maximum energy
- POPMATRIX TECHNOLOGY WITH RE-ENGINEERED TAPER- maximize bending and efficiently transfer the energy stored
- ASCENT BLADE 3- Lighter blade that features tactile blade surface
- SIGMATEX- exclusive spread tow fabric that is ultra lightweight, and very strong
